DID YOU KNOW...

A heroic Culpeper resident named John Jameson was instrumental in exposing one of our country's worst traitors, Benedict Arnold. He served as the Culpeper County court clerk from 1772 - 1810, and was a captain and company commander in the original Culpeper Minute Men Battalion when it was formed in September 1775. Together, he and the Minute Men fought in the first Revolutionary War battle on Virginia soil at Great Bridge.

In 1780, General George Washington placed key commanders in strategic areas around West Point, New York, and Colonel Jameson was placed in Tarrytown under the supervision of General Benedict Arnold. A gentleman calling himself John Anderson was intercepted and found to be in possession of documents that included information regarding the defenses of West Point and the movements of the American army. Since the papers were found in an odd place, "under the feet of his stockings", Colonel Jameson became alarmed, arrested Anderson, and alerted General Arnold, though he had suspicions about Arnold as well. Anderson was carrying a pass signed by the General, and Arnold was noted to be "very desirous of the Papers and everything being sent with him." Because of the serious nature of the papers and his distrust of Arnold, Jameson wrote to General George Washington, enclosing the papers taken from Anderson. Upon examining the papers, Washington called for Anderson, who then confessed that he was British major John André, envoy to the British commander in chief, Sir Henry Clinton. The investigation further revealed that Benedict Arnold, as commandant of West Point, agreed in 1780 to surrender the fort to the enemy in return for a royal commission in the British army and a large sum of money. Because of Jameson's intuition and cunning, Arnold's treasonous plot was foiled, and the attempt to pass control of West Point and New England to the British was thwarted.

A PARK ON THE RISE

Travel down Stevensburg Road and see what is currently underway at Lenn Park! What was once donated green space is steadily evolving into a wonderful park setting that will offer Culpeper citizens a variety of recreational activities.

Lenn Park Softball field, October 2010

With financial backing from a gracious anonymous donor, two adult softball fields are being added to the north end of the park. Field construction will be worked on in the cold weather, seed put in and the warmer spring weather will help develop the growth of grass. The Parks and Recreation Department hopes to open the adult softball fields to players by fall of 2011.

To the south of Lenn Park, road access has been provided thanks to the Barnstormers Radio Control Model Airplane Club members. The Barnstormers located a donor to provide stone for the access road. The company not only contributed stone but provided the manpower and equipment to level and compress the stone to create a smooth driving surface. This project provided reliable access to the Park and saved the County thousands of dollars in development expenses. Access would otherwise have been delayed until budget funds could be spared.

The Barnstormers have also assumed responsibility for maintenance of the airfield facility. The grounds that were once considered flood plain have been transformed into usable land for the flying club through the efforts of members. Nicholas Burhans, coordinator of volunteers, will make sure the southern portion of the park looks great. Nic and his crew of Club members will continue to invest many hours maintaining the airstrip and surrounding area.

In these tough economic times, manpower and dollars are in short supply. It requires a lot of both to maintain parks and the County has also been able to add to the park system while preserving dollars. To assist in managing the park system, the Board of Supervisors entered into an agreement with Coffee-wood Correctional Institute to allow a group of level 1 offenders to work on park projects under the supervision of a correctional officer and County staff member. This workforce has provided and will continue to provide manpower to work on routine tasks that otherwise would not be completed by the Park Superintendent or other staff members. Their work will benefit the development of our park system without cost to County taxpayers.

If you are travelling Stevensburg Road and see the Lenn Park sign, stop and take a moment to visit. You'll be surprised at how it's progressing!

CULPEPER RECREATION FOUNDATION RAISES FUNDS FOR CONCESSION/RESTROOMS

During the months of September and October, the Culpeper Recreation Foundation Inc. planned several fundraising events. The first event involved Fun-N-Beyond located at Montanus Drive. The facility houses inflatable bounce equipment and other arcade games. On Friday, September 17th several families supported the event raising $107 for the Foundation.

On Saturday, October 2nd the Culpeper Recreation Foundation held the 3rd annual Culpeper Cycling Century bicycle ride. The event offered riders a choice of a 35, 65 or 104 mile ride. Although the 104 mile journey may have posed a physical challenge to some, all agreed the scenery was well worth the effort. Travelling through small towns, over hills and then the terrific view of the mountains really made the ride unforgettable.

No matter what physical effort is required to bike any of the distances, the Culpeper Cycling century has steadily become an extremely popular ride for Culpeper. In 2008, the first year of the event, 55 riders were registered. This grew to 92 riders in 2009 and in 2010, 214 riders were registered. Participants travelled from as far as Colorado, North Carolina and Tennessee. The event raised approximately $9,671 for the Foundation's goal of building two concession/restrooms at the Culpeper Sports Complex.

A survey is being conducted with results not readily available for this article. However, if the survey outcome is the same as last year, many participants will return because they enjoyed the ride. We hope more of those travelling long distances to attend will plan to stay in local accommodations and enjoy local restaurants and shopping.
